And comes not in, ouer-rulde by Prophecies,
I feare the power of Percy is too weake,
To wage an instant tryall with the King.

Sir M. Why, my good Lord, you need not feare,
There is Douglas, and Lord Mortimer,

Arch. No, Mortimer is not there.

Sir M. But there is Mordake, Vernon, L. Harry Percy,
And there is my Lord of Worcester, and a head
Of gallant warriours, noble Gentlemen.

Arch. And so there is, but yet the King hath drawne
The speciall head of all the land together.
The Prince of Wales, Lord Iohn of Lancaster,
The noble Westmerland, and warlike Blunt;
And many mo Coriuales, and deare men
Of estimation, and command in armes.

Sir M. Doubt not my Lord, he shalbe well oppos'd.

Arch. I hope no lesse; yet, needfull 'tis to feare,
And to preuent the worst, Sir Michell, speed:

For if Lord Percy thriue not ere the King
Dismiss his power, he meanes to visit vs,
For he hath heard of our confederacie;
And 'tis but wisdom to make strong against him:
Therefore make haste, I must goe write againe

To other friends, and so farewell, Sir Michell. Exeunt.

Enter the King, Prince of Wales, Lord Iohn of Lancaster, Earle of Westmerland, sir Walter Blunt, and Falstaffe.

King. How bloodily the Sunne begins to peere,
Aboue yon buskie hill, the day lookes pale
At his distemperature.

Prince. The Southerne winde
Doth play the trumpet to his purposes,
And by hollow whistling in the leaues,
Foretels a tempest and a blustering day.

King. Then with the losers let it sympathize,
For nothing can seeme foule to those that winne.

The Trumpet sounds. Enter Worcester.

King. How now my Lord of Worcester? 'tis not well,
That you and I should meet vpon such tearmes,
